STRAWBERRIES

HARDY AND VERY PRODUCTIVE

There are several ways which they can be used. They can be frozen and used later during the winter months; for preserves, or fresh from the garden either by themselves or served as old-fashioned shortcake.

The plants we offer are fresh dug from the field in the Spring, (not inferior storage plants). They are new vigorous offsprings from the mother plant; heavy rooted and capable of bearing profitable crops of First Quality Berries.

SHADE TREES

SHADE TREES ARE VALUABLE ATTRIBUTES TO HOME GROUND BEAUTY AND COMFORT.

Plant them for enframement and background for the setting of your home, and to add a third dimension, height to the width and depth of your grounds. When the weather is hot, shade is welcome on the lawn, terrace or porch. Your house is cooled by shadows falling on the walls facing south, southeast and southwest. They relieve any tendency toward a too flat, unpleasing, open appearance.

BIG NORWAY MAPLES 12 feet high and better, which will provide shade almost the first year.

PRICE $12.50

NUT TREES

Nut trees are dual-purpose plants, producing food as well as providing shade and beauty.

BLACK WALNUT—Its richly flavored nuts are prized for eating out of hand and for use in cakes, cookies, ice cream and candies.

PRICES for 4-5 ft. trees.....$2.50

CHINESE CHESTNUT—Hardier than a peach, blight resistant. Trees are fast growing and bear young. Two trees needed for pollination.

PRICES for 3-4 ft. trees.....$2.50

BUTTERNUT—Hardy and excellent for northern locations. A handsome, rapid-growing tree with a nut that is rich in flavor and cracks easily.

PRICES for 4-5 ft. trees.....$3.50

ENGLISH WALNUT—An exceedingly handsome tree for the lawn. It produces large crops of thin-shelled delicious nuts, which are always in demand at a good price.

PRICES for 2-3 ft. trees.....$1.75

APRICOT TREES

Our Apricot trees are budded on myrobalan root stock, hence are hardier and can be planted on a wider range of soils.

POLLINATION OF FRUIT TREES

(Possible to bear fruit)

Cross-pollination is needed for most varieties of Apple: therefore plant at least two different varieties. Cortland, Delicious and Wealthy have been highly recommended by the New York State Agricultural Experiment Station, Geneva, N. Y., as being very good pollinators. Therefore, include one of these varieties in your planting.

Varieties not requiring cross-pollination are: Baldwin, Jonathan, Red Rome Beauty, R. I. Greening, and Wealthy. However these varieties are benefited by a pollinator.

Pears like apples need cross-pollination. However Bartlett and Seckel do not pollinate each other, and therefore when these two varieties are desired, plant a third variety.

Prunes, Plums—Varieties which we offer are self-fertile and produce fruit on their own pollen; however they produce better when interplanted with other varieties. For example—if the variety Stanley is wanted most, plant another variety such as Bradshaw with it.

Cherries—The varieties we offer need cross-pollination; therefore plant at least two different varieties. Sour cherries are self-fruitful and do not require a pollinator.

Peaches—With the exception of Mikado and J. H. Hale, all the varieties we offer are self-fruitful.

GUARANTEE

All material which we offer is guaranteed to be first-class, graded to or better than the standards adopted by the American Association of Nurserymen. If planted and cared for properly it should thrive and grow. However, nursery stock is of a perishable nature and a limited amount of failures are to be expected. They might be due to weather conditions over our control, improper planting methods, or for no apparent reason at all. Therefore should failure occur, we will replace once at one-half the original price if notified before August 1st, following the preceding Fall or Spring shipments.
